

EpochField Mobile

Give your field workers access to the data they need anytime, anywhere

EpochField Mobile provides the ability to visually represent asset data via a map-centric platform

Built on our core geospatial foundation, EpochField Mobile application provides field workers with the asset and network data they need to make their daily work easier than ever. With our offline-first approach, field workers can be more efficient, accurate, and safer in the field. Our EpochField Mobile application is comprised of two deployment patterns so it can operate as a standalone mobile mapping solution or tightly integrated within the EpochField product suite in the work management component for powerful field data collection.

Purpose-Built Features

EpochField Mobile provides the ability to visually represent asset data via a map-centric platform built on cutting-edge technology that supports the latest generation of touch screen devices. A utility is not limited by the type of mobile device required for the product. The choice is yours - EpochField runs on Windows, iOS, and Android devices.

GEOSPATIAL DATA MANAGEMENT

Automate versioning, geoprocessing, and archiving

APPLICATION INTEGRATION

Integrate GIS and business apps in one place

HIGHLY SCALABLE

Manage work across individual crews or entire service territories
