Managing Your Field Work

EpochField Work Scheduler web application is the system of record for managing all varieties of utility field work to field crews. System administrators and field work managers configure Work Scheduler for users, roles, and group access for performing the following tasks:

- » Viewing scheduled work and work to be scheduled on a map.
- » Viewing the current location of field crews on a map.
- » Scheduling and dispatching of work and work cycles to the field, taking into account personal time off and other time blocks recorded in external scheduling systems.
- » Reporting and analysis.
- » Assigning of work to users, user roles, and groups of users.
- » Managing and assignment of equipment resources for work to be done.
- » Creation of work orders from the results of network tracing operations.
- » Auditing of work completed.
- » System and application event logging.
