

EpochSync Pro

Syncing your data with Esri Utility Network

EpochSync Pro is a new version of Epoch Solution Group's EpochSync software written specifically in the ArcGIS Pro SDK to take advantage of Esri's Utility Network. EpochSync allows customers to bring their Smallworld data into an ArcGIS format to enable them to take full advantage of the ArcGIS suite of functionality.

A Flexible High-Performance Solution

EpochSync Pro provides a powerful, flexible high-performance solution for synchronizing data between a variety of data formats including, Smallworld, ArcGIS enterprise and file geodatabases, ArcGIS Pro utility networks, and Oracle.

- » Read support for Smallworld and Oracle, including SDO geometry.
- » Flexible, chainable transformation architecture allows for complex in-transit data manipulation.
- » Create mappings to extract data with minimal training.
- » Incremental data synchronization ensures only data changes are synchronized.
- » Plugin architecture allows for easy development of custom data format connectors (read and/or write) and transforms.
- » Supports a number of built-in in-flight data transformations, including coordinate system transformations.
- » Flexible mappings support sync between wholly different data models.
