

Executive Bios

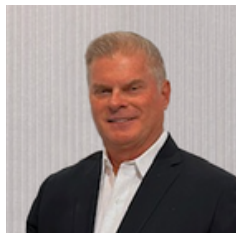

James Street, Founder and CEO

James Street founded Epoch Solutions Group in 2006 with the vision of empowering utility companies with data-driven insights and configurable solutions that optimize business processes, increase organizational efficiency, and drive workforce optimization. Under his leadership, the company has implemented 20+ leading utility projects serving 10M+ customers in the United States and Canada and 30,000+ EpochField customers use the solution daily.

Prior to Epoch Solutions Group, James spent nearly 15 years at category leaders such as Spatial Business Systems, General Electric, and Barclays Bank. An industry thought leader, he is a frequent speaker on both GIS platform integration and field workforce implementations and workflows. James received his B.S. in Computer Science from the University of Hertfordshire, England.

Bruce Chumley, Vice President of Sales

As Vice President of Sales for Epoch Solutions Group, Bruce Chumley is responsible for designing and executing the company's global sales strategy to maximize revenue and profitability.

Bruce joined Epoch Solutions Group in January 2023, bringing 40 years of sales leadership in the fast-paced technology and software industries. He is recognized as a highly motivated and accomplished executive focused on building a high-performance team, attracting top talent, embracing accountability, and fostering a winning culture.

Previously, Bruce served as Vice President of North America Indirect Sales at Cambium Networks for four years. Prior to Cambium Networks, Bruce was the Vice President of Sales for RiskPoynt and served as the Group Vice President for Oracle. Before Oracle, he held senior leadership positions with Hitachi, IBM, and other technology companies. Bruce studied Business at IMD Business School in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Mike Mitchell, Vice President of Program Management

Mike Mitchell joined Epoch Solutions Group in July 2023, bringing more than 30 years of experience to the company. As Vice President of Program Management, he is focused on customer success and a company vision to drive collaboration and excellence across the organization.

Most recently for MMP Living, a consultancy which he co-founded and later served as Chief Operating Officer, Mike helped companies scale for growth with the Amazon AWS Platform, finding solutions to optimize and streamline key business processes.

During his 16-year tenure with the company, Mike was named a Titan 100, recognized for his exceptional leadership, vision, and passion, in the state of Colorado. Previously, for Nextaction, he served as Senior Product Director, designing, building, and managing a large team in the creation of ETL, business intelligence, and product delivery systems.

Before that role, Mike spent five years at GE as Director of Global Professional Services, developing their services organization following Smallworld's acquisition. He received his Bachelor of Science in Technology and Management Science from the University of Bradford, England.

Chris Formeller, Vice President of Product Management

Since August 2023, Chris Formeller has served as the Epoch Solutions Group Vice President of Product Management, who is responsible for shaping the product portfolio and leading cross-functional teams to execute strategies, embark on impactful market research, and refine the customer experience.

In his Epoch Solutions role, Chris draws from a 24-year tenure in the tech industry, with expertise in crafting geospatial products, SaaS solutions, digital innovations, and AI/ML applications. Most recently, Chris founded Product

Success Catalyst, which focused on empowering startups with product visions and maximizing their return on invested capital through data-driven decisions and customer-centric strategies. Previously, he led product development teams at companies including Amazon, GeoSpark Analytics, and Maxar Technology. Chris received his MBA from DeVry University and bachelor's degrees in Geography and Anthropology from Texas State University.

Natalie Street, Vice President of Operations

Natalie Street is the Vice President of Operations for Epoch Solutions Group, where she leads operations and human resources for the company. Natalie is passionate about creating team cohesiveness and a company culture where employees can thrive, and she develops effective strategies for employee engagement. Natalie is also responsible for the implementation of operational processes that scale while maximizing cost efficiencies to deliver results.

Natalie has been with Epoch Solutions Group since its inception in 2006, when she managed human resources, contracts, and finance. Prior to joining the company, Natalie led IT Support Desk Teams at Gillette, Jones Lang Wootton, and Warner Chappell Music.

Contact

Elizabeth Mars, Senior PR Strategist

Marketri for Epoch Solutions Group

303.955.0319

emars@marketri.com