Solutions Group

A foundation for your network and asset workflows

EpochField provides everything a utility needs, from field workflow creation and management to scheduling work and distributing asset map data to the field. Unlike any other single-solution application on the market, EpochField is easily configurable to meet your business needs now and in the future, across the utility industry.

EpochField is a set of applications that provides the first truly integrated workforce management and geospatial mapping solution. EpochField interfaces seamlessly with any organization's back-end enterprise systems to deliver work order information to operations managers, supervisors, dispatchers, and workers in the field.

EpochField enables enterprises to digitally transform, automate and streamline field service operations, from the frontline to third-party, back-office systems.

30,000+
Users

Epoch Solutions Group works with some of the largest utility companies in North America, such as Sempra Energy, Ameren Energy, Eversource Energy, and Entergy.

250+
Projects

Epoch Solutions Group prides itself on more than 200 successfully completed projects across North America servicing electric and gas utilities.

75M+
Customers

Our EpochField customers have a service area covering more than 80% of the United States and 70% of Canada, serving more than 100 million customers collectively.

"Epoch Solutions Group understands the critical day-to-day management of a utility's essential network. We also understand that field crews require timely information regarding the location of all assets to safely and efficiently support this critical infrastructure."

Mobile

Map-Centric Mobile Platform

EpochField is a multi-platform mobile workforce management solution that enables field crew to access and view asset data in a disconnected environment. EpochField provides this solution via a map-centric platform built on cutting-edge technology that supports the latest generation touch screen devices.

Workflow Builder

Intelligent Work Forms

The EpochField Workflow Builder application allows application administrators to build, view, edit, and configure the work forms used by EpochField Mobile users performing their assigned work in the field. Workflow Builder can create workflows and intelligent work forms for any work type with custom fields and define cross-field validation rules for data entry and values.
